

THIS HERE'S MY FAVOURITE PART.

CAUSE NO MATTER HOW MANY TIMES I DO THIS--

--AND I DO THIS A LOT--

THE SIMPLE TRUTH IS...

A full-page illustration of a cowboy, Griff, sliding down a large, swirling wormhole. The wormhole has a red and orange interior and a blue and black exterior. The cowboy is wearing a brown jacket, a red bandana, and a cowboy hat. He is looking back over his shoulder with a determined expression. His clothes are covered in blood. The background is filled with white, scratch-like lines.

...THERE AINT NOTHING LIKE
SLIDING DOWN THE WORMHOLE.

MY NAME'S GRIFF.

AND I BEEN PLACES YOU
WOULDN'T BELIEVE.